

The ISPAD Science School 2008

The ISPAD Science School 2008

The ISPAD Science School 2008 is designed for young physicians working in the field of diabetes

The latest clinical and clinically-relevant research will be explored and discussed

The school is designed for fellows and junior faculty.

Topics: genetics and immunology of type 1 diabetes, epidemiology of diabetes, type 2 diabetes and insulin resistance in children, risk factors for complications, approaches to clinical translational research.

Dates: September 13th-19th 2008.

Location: Estes Park, Colorado, USA (one hour north of Denver)
Rockies YMCA

Applications should include:

- Full name, address, CV, affiliation
- Reasons for wanting to attend and statement of clinical and research interests
- Letter of recommendation from programme director or professor of paediatric endocrinology

Applications should be sent to:

Georgeanna J. Klingensmith, MD, Professor of Pediatrics
Barbara Davis Centre, 1775 N. Ursula Street, MS A140
PO Box 6511, Aurora, CO 80045

Georgeanna.klingensmith@uchsc.edu

Full information, can be found at www.ispad.org
www.ymcarockies.org

Deadline: May 15th 2008